David Puchala

MSc in Business Analytics at Esade
Barcelona, Catalonia, Spain

Summary

MSc Business Analytics at ESADE Barcelona. Background in international partnership management, data analytics, and commercial outreach across three countries and three industries. I'm drawn to roles where analysis meets client work — sales, solutions, customer success, and business development in fast-moving companies. Fluent in English and Czech. Advanced Spanish and Russian.

Experience

CUPRA

Student Analyst (Capstone Project)

February 2026 - Present (3 months)

Barcelona

Data analytics Capstone project with CUPRA (Volkswagen Group), redesigning how the company monitors and understands its Connected Services ecosystem across 1M+ vehicles. Building an automated, insight-driven analytics dashboard to replace static reporting, helping teams across the business make faster, smarter decisions on customer behavior, service performance, and emerging issues.

AIESEC in the Netherlands

International Relations Manager

September 2024 - June 2025 (10 months)

Amsterdam, North Holland, Netherlands

Managed relationships with 20+ international partner committees to align internship placements and strengthen cross-border collaborations.

Cooperated in matching students with an internship abroad, as part of the OGT (Outgoing Global Talent) department.

Proyecto Peru Centre

Marketing Intern

July 2024 - August 2024 (2 months)

Cusco, Cusco, Peru · On-site (Host Family Placement)

Conducted market research and bilingual content development to expand audience reach across Spanish & English markets.

Advised management on digital marketing strategy using AI tools (e.g., SEMrush, Google Analytics).

Enriched online presence through metadata optimization and link-building, created and led fresh travel narratives to bolster company reputation.
